

YOUNG PROFESSIONAL KITCHEN CABINET

“Cincinnati has an outstanding population of young professionals. We need to support and foster the young professional community so that it can grow and leave its mark on the city. The YP Kitchen Cabinet will give me insight into the important issues that we need to prioritize in order to make our city more fun and exciting.”

- Mayor Mark Mallory

Mayor Mallory has created the Mayor’s Young Professional Kitchen Cabinet to advise him of issues facing the city and to help him design initiatives that will help Cincinnati attract and retain young professionals (YPs). The 12 member YP Kitchen Cabinet will bring together a diverse group of young professionals and give them the opportunity to present ideas directly to the Mayor.

On July 27, Mayor Mark Mallory announced the formation of at a press conference at the P & G Gardens downtown on the eve of Bold Fusion, an annual conference for young professionals sponsored by the Cincinnati USA Regional Chamber. Applications were available at the Bold Fusion Conference at the Duke Energy Center.
